

Hike Aids

Offered by the
HIGH ADVENTURE TEAM
Los Angeles Area Council
Boy Scouts of America

H
I
K
E

A
I
D

O

Hike Aids are prepared and published by the Los Angeles Area Council-High Adventure Team (LAAC-HAT). Their purpose is to provide the adult Leader with literature for planning and conducting a High Adventure Program, without duplicating that which is available from the BSA-National Council and from other commercial sources. They supplement the syllabuses given to participants at High Adventure training events.

This cover and index are for Hike Aids that are available as of this date:

Number/Title:

Dated:

0.	Hike Aids (Cover/Index)	May 2009
1.	This Is Your High Adventure Team	May 2009
2.	Introduction to High Adventure Program Literature	June 2005
3.	Full Dimension High Adventure Training	June 2005
4.	High Adventure Procedures and Guidelines	May 2006
5.	High Adventure Backpacking Program	May 2006
6.	High Adventure Awards Program	September 2005
7.	Forest and Trail Conservation	May 2006
8.	Scout's Own	April 2007
9.	Risk, Health, and Safety	October 2005
10.	A Parent's Guide to High Adventure	October 2005
11.	Bicycling to High Adventure	May 2006
12.	More Backpacking Ideas	May 2006
13.	A Trail Guide to the Rae Lakes Loop	October 2005
14.	Aquatics in High Adventure	May 2006
15.	Long-Term Trekking - Program and Awards	June 2005
16.	Peak Bagging - Program and Awards	January 2005

The LAAC-HAT practice is to review its Hike Aids on a three-year cycle and to revise and reissue them when necessary to remain current and relevant. A notation of the date of the previously issued version will be printed at the bottom of the inside of the cover, along with a statement as to the nature of the current revisions. A comment that the revisions are nonsubstantive in nature means that they are likely to involve matters of style, etc.; a person may continue to use the earlier Hike Aid, rather than replacing it. However, when the changes are substantive, the earlier version is usually superseded and is to be replaced by the current revision.

Assembled and published by the
HIGH ADVENTURE TEAM
of the
Los Angeles Area Council
Scout Way
Los Angeles, CA 90026
Lyle N. Whited
Composed by John Hainey

